ROOT'S PLAN FOR WORLD COURT IS LIKE HARDING'S

Text of Draft for International Tribunal Is Made Public in London.

EXCELS HAGUE SCHEME

15 Judges, Without Regard to Nationality, to Act on Own Consciences.

DIPLOMACY NOT FACTOR

League Amendments to Wait New Administration in Washington March 4.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD, Copyright, 1920, by THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Secretariat of the League of Nations published today the draft of the proposed permanent Court of International Justice. This is the scheme upon which Philip Root and nine other distinguished jurists worked for two months. Competent critics here regard it as complete in all its details and as representing the first perfect power from such worth while seeds as the Treaty of Versailles contained.

However, in the opinion of diplomats here, it differs essentially from the basic idea underlying the Council of the League of Nations.

According to the scheme, the court will be composed of fifteen judges, without respect to nationality, who will determine justiciable disputes between nations. The members of the court will act as judges in every sense of the word. They will make their decisions and vote in accordance with the dictates of conscience, the facts in the case and the acknowledged principles of international law, irrespective of the national or the international policies of their own or other countries.

Moral Force Back of Decisions.

Behind the decisions of this court will be the moral force, but it was pointed out here that while the Supreme Court of the United States has no greater power of enforcing its decisions than has this international court, its decisions never have been questioned.

Thus, while the nations adhering to the League of Nations are expected to accept such a court, it is pointed out that such a court would not lose a vestige of its national sovereignty in the submission of any international dispute to the court for judicial determination, the nations likewise would not risk that their case would be decided through diplomatic machinations of the representatives of any national interest.

"Arthur J. Balfour as a judge in such a court would be quite a different individual from Arthur J. Balfour representing the interests of the British Empire in the League of Nations," was the view of a distinguished statesman here who described it to the correspondent of THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD to-day.

Although the scheme was completed and submitted to the League of Nations at the last meeting of the League Council in San Sebastian, it has been in the hands of the Council for some time to allow it to take action on it. According to the report of the jurists on the proposed organization of the court will be submitted to the Council at its next meeting in Brussels in October, and subsequently, to the first meeting of the League Assembly in Geneva in November.

In Line With Harding's Ideas.

While it will then be too early to submit simultaneously amendments to the League covenant, the character of the scheme is in line with President Harding's declaration in Marion, Ohio, on August 28, that it cannot be regarded as a preliminary step toward bringing the League of Nations into the world, but that it is a declaration of the League of Nations, and that it is a declaration of the League of Nations, and that it is a declaration of the League of Nations.

EDISON SAYS WOMEN HOLD VOTING BALANCE

They Should Help Better Conditions, He Says.

Thomas A. Edison possesses some very pronounced views regarding women and the ballot. The inventor said yesterday that he believes the women hold the balance of power in politics, and while he is not "keen on seeing women seeking political positions," because they "could accomplish much more good in their homes," it is his opinion they should "lend the weight of their ballot to aid those men who vote for better conditions."

TREE LOVERS CHECK VANITY OF QUEENS OFFICE SEEKERS

Park Commissioner Orders Candidates to Take Down Their Pictures.

The candidates who are trying to be elected to something or other in Queens recently stuck pictures of themselves on trees throughout the borough thinking they thus would attract attention and comment. They did, but not the sort they expected. Complaints began to pour into the office of Albert C. Benninger, Park Commissioner, that the trees were being almost buried under the mass of pictures.

Mr. Benninger sent word yesterday to the candidates to take down their pictures and notified them that if they were not down by midnight the offending offenders would be dismantled and cut down. They did, but not the sort they expected. Complaints began to pour into the office of Albert C. Benninger, Park Commissioner, that the trees were being almost buried under the mass of pictures.

COURT BARS PARENTS FROM SEEING CHILD

Awards Girl, 13, to Foster Mother, Who Reared Her.

Vice-Chancellor Fielder in the Chancery Court in Newark yesterday gave the care of Kathleen Delaney, aged 13, to her foster mother, Mrs. Lillian Delaney, and in doing his decision put in a clause enjoining the biological parents from seeing her or attempting to gain possession of her.

Since she was a year old she had lived with her foster parents, who separated a few weeks ago. Then she learned that she was not their child but a niece of the husband. In court yesterday it was alleged that he was helping the girl's real mother, who is his sister, in her application for the return of the child.

Vice-Chancellor Fielder awarded the girl to her foster mother after she had told him that she had not seen her father in five years or her mother in twelve, and that she was being reared as about the strangers in the court-room about her.

ASKS EVICTION OF SLEEPLESS HORSE

Stablekeeper Says He Drives Away Boarders.

The horse which occupies the third stall from the end on the right of the floor in Antonio Ferraro's stable at 279 East 143d street is shot every four weeks with the assistance of an arrangement of ropes, chains, and rings devised by one of the horse's helpers, formerly a sailor at sea. Moving picture photographers have come from as far away as Seattle to see it do its work.

In the Second District Municipal Court in the Bronx yesterday the subject of the case was a dispute between the stablekeeper and a boarder who claimed that he had a number of horses of his own in the stable and that the creature, as far as anybody could make out, never slept more than two hours in twenty-four, and that the atmosphere of the stable in the night time, with the floor deafened with straw and horses sleeping and snoring, appeared to drive him to distraction.

UNWRITTEN LAW DOOMS STRAW KELLIES TO-DAY

Police Prevent Destruction From Beginning Sooner.

To-day, which is September 15, is the last day for straw-kellys, according to an unofficial tradition promulgated originally by some one with no law for law, but last night in two sections of the city a gang of boys tried to destroy the straw-kellys, and in the process forced the populace to remove the straw-kellys before the season closed. As a result of their efforts two shots were fired by policemen, several hats were destroyed and at least one boy was spanked by his father.

The lad who felt the weight of the parental hand is Joseph Ferraro, 7 years old, of 70 Bayard street, ringleader of a gang of boys who tried to destroy straw-kellys at Bayard and Mott streets. The police got him and sent him with instructions to his father to spank him. The straw-kellys were fired in Second avenue, near 110th street, when several hundreds boys attacked patrolmen who were sent to preserve order. The cops fired into the air and the boys ran.

A group of political speakers, headed by Mayor Charles P. Gillett of Newark, unexpectedly learned the inventor's views at the conclusion of a meeting at Mr. Edison's plant in West Orange, N. J. The speakers, who had been addressing the workers during the noon hour, were about to leave when the inventor appeared. Mr. Edison exchanged a few words with them and then left for his laboratory as two women candidates sought to question him.

WRANGLER DRIVE LIKELY

Prepares for New Dash on Moscow and Petrograd From the South.

By LAURENCE HILLS.
Staff Correspondent of THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD, Copyright, 1920, by THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—A revolt against the rule of Nikolai Lenine and Leon Trotsky has broken out in Russia following the Russian learning the truth of the Bolshevik debate on the Polish front, according to reports from Copenhagen and Berlin reaching the French Foreign Office.

Though the reports are unconfirmed the Foreign Office has been expecting them for three weeks.

Copenhagen advices, based presumably on statements by refugees from Petrograd, state that scores of high Soviet officials, including half a dozen commissars, have been assassinated and their bodies cut to pieces and thrown into gutters.

Fleet Mutiny Reported.

Also the French have received reports that a heavy bombardment of Petrograd has commenced and that this is believed to be the beginning of the revolt of the Russian fleet now at Kronstadt. The truth of this report is doubted in some circles here, however.

It is generally admitted in Paris that the hope of just such a revolt as this developing promised the Associated Press and French advices to Poland that moderation was the best policy if the Russian people were to be turned against the Moscow Government.

GERMAN WIRELESS SET HIDDEN IN WATER TANK

Phone on Interred Ship Probably Directed Sea Raiders.

A wireless telephone set, found in a water cask in a stateroom of the Peruvian steamship Eten, which arrived here yesterday from Cape Town, South Africa, has led naval authorities to believe the Germans perfected the instrument during the war.

The Eten formerly was the German steamship Rajah Koola, and was in service at a Peruvian port. Her wireless was dismantled and it is thought possible the German crew, who were permitted to stay aboard, used the wireless to communicate with German submarines. The instrument is said to have a sending radius of 1,000 miles.

COUPLE FORGIVE AND FORGET FOR THIRTEENTH TIME

Chicago Pair Start Married Life Anew After Fifteen Stormy Years.

Special to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD.
CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—John and Frances Ebron decided to-day to forgive and forget and begin their married life all over again.

Of course, a close tally of their marital adventures shows that it is the thirteenth time they have made such a new beginning, but John and Frances were optimistic.

"We understand each other now," said Mrs. Ebron. "You see all our trouble came because John is so handsome—and so irritable. It annoyed him when I found out about other women."

The strange case of the Ebrons came before Judge Trude in the Court of Domestic Relations. It had been there before. In less than the flying flash, according to the record, the Ebrons have been twice divorced, thrice married and have separated ten times.

ON 'LAST TRIP,' FLIER GOES TO HIS DEATH

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14.—Walter Stevens, an air mail pilot, and Russell Thomas, a mechanic, both of Cleveland, were burned to death to-day when their plane caught fire at an altitude of 500 feet at Pemberville, Ohio.

Stevens was a veteran of the air mail service, having been a member since its inauguration. Before departing to-day he was in the air mail plane, which was to be his last trip, as he had resigned. Thomas leaves a bride of four days.

Stevens and Thomas were flying a J. L. all mail plane. They left here for Chicago with 400 pounds of mail, which they were relaying after an accident in which a mail plane was wrecked here to-day and Pilot William Middlemear was slightly injured shortly after taking off.

THOMPSON LOOKS BEATEN

G. O. P. Fight Most Bitter in History There—J. Ham Lewis Has Walkover.

By a Staff Correspondent of THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—They're at the post finally for the 1920 primary race, one of the fastest and most important cards of contests ever put on in the history of Illinois politics. A record breaking vote is looked for to-morrow, when more than 1,000,000 men and women will cast their ballots for State and local candidates. Of this number 500,000 are expected to be cast in Chicago alone.

Tremendous interest has been aroused in the issues of the campaign and as it is the first time Illinois women have had the privilege of voting for all offices it is believed there will be a great outpouring of voters in every Congressional district.

The Democratic campaign has been a listless matter of form, with the exception of the contest for State Attorney of Chicago, while the Republicans have had real political battles along the line. Never before in the history of the State has there been such a vicious, expensive and spectacular Republican primary battle waged.

Bitterness has featured the fight between Gov. Lowden, supporting John G. Oglesby, the anti-Tammany candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, and Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, head of the Thompson-Tammany forces, who is backing Len Small for the Republican nomination for Governor. Ten thousand deputy sheriffs have been sworn in by Sheriff Peters in Chicago to guard the polls to-morrow. A majority of the deputies are members of the American Legion who assisted the Sheriff in the race riots last summer and members of the Policemen's Pensioners Organization.

Classes Are Almost Sure.

Bloodshed and rioting between the deputy sheriffs and the police to-morrow are probable. The Sheriff's office defied by Police Department and the State's Attorney's office, while Charles Clynne, United States Attorney, entered the fight with promises of drastic action should the law be interfered with.

Sheriff Peters defied the Thompson-Tammany forces and the latter intimated that the police would be instructed to treat special deputy sheriffs as lawbreakers and arrest them.

Sheriff Peters said that any such move by the police would result in somebody being killed. The police have orders from Chief Garrity to wait at the polls for complete returns of the election and to take results to the City Hall.

On the other hand, Sheriff Peters

ordered that the final figures be sent by his deputies and taken to the Sheriff's office.

The Thompson-Tammany Organization has been reported as spending more than $1,000,000 in the State to "put Len Small alone."

Mayor Thompson openly has charged in attacking Gov. Lowden and the "Lowden slate of hand picked candidates" that public utility corporations, which are controlled by the State House crowd's campaign.

"Isn't it reasonable to expect," asked the Mayor, "that a corporation that has made it its policy to make money out of the people's property should be expected to contribute to the support of the State government?" It is, and they have."

In his campaign of vituperation

Mayor Thompson called the Republican Governor such names as "crook," "liar," "coward," "traitor" and "a disgrace."

Indications Against Thompson.

If two-thirds of the reports from down-State are true the anti-Thompson candidates will come to Chicago with 100,000 votes to spare, and such pluralities likely cannot be overcome in Cook county. Thompson-Tammany leaders are now content with boasts that they will elect their ticket with pluralities put under 50,000.

Lowden said to-night: "The Thompson-Tammany ticket will be swept off the map. I look for a plurality of 100,000 for the regular Republican ticket."

Thompson said: "The Thompson ticket will lead by 150,000 to 200,000 votes. In Chicago the ticket will be voted by 50,000 to 100,000. Judge Crowe will win the nomination for State Attorney by a plurality of 75,000."

State's Attorney Hoyne of Chicago in a bitter fight for the Democratic nomination is opposed by Michael L. Igoe, Ex-Senator James Hamilton Lewis is virtually the only entry in the Democratic race for Governor. Barratt O'Hara, formerly Lieutenant Governor, is listed as Mr. Lewis's opponent.

Throughout the speeches Gov. Cox

accepted the League of Nations as the basis of his campaign, giving weight to his arguments which he has touched upon in other sections of the Northwest, that of using the money ordinarily spent for battle ships in the extension of reclamation and irrigation projects. He argued repeatedly that the cost of one battleship would restore 250,000 acres of land.
